State Representative Kevin Chambliss Stands in Support of Women's Right to Choose

Miami, FL – In response to the first Texas-style abortion bill that was filed earlier this week in the Florida House (HB 167), State Representative Kevin Chambliss (D-Homestead) stated that:

“I am proud to stand with my female colleagues as they fight for their right to make their own decisions about their body. It is my sincere belief that a woman is inevitably sovereign over her own body and any infringement on her sovereignty, especially by the government, goes against the basic principles that this country was founded upon. Whether or not I agree with her decision or not, is irrelevant. Ultimately, it should be her decision as it is her body, therefore her choice. Therefore, I will continue to stand with my sisters, mothers, aunties, colleagues, and friends and say no to any legislation that tries to take away her ability to choose what is best for her body.”

Representative Chambliss stands with others in the House Democratic Caucus in support of not only the women in Florida, but all women in our country.
