SUMMARY ANALYSIS

Section 943.0435, F.S., lists numerous offenses that qualify a person as a sexual offender (e.g., sexual battery, lewd or lascivious offenses, video voyeurism, etc.). These offenses range from third degree felonies to capital felonies, and most are ranked between Levels 6 and Level 9 in the Offense Severity Ranking Chart.

The bill reclassifies the offenses listed in s. 943.0435, F.S., if the offense is committed by an authority figure of an educational institution against a student of the educational institution. The offenses are reclassified as follows:

- Third degree felonies are reclassified as second degree felonies;
- · Second degree felonies are reclassified as first degree felonies; and
- First degree felonies are reclassified as life felonies.

The bill also requires a reclassified offense to be ranked one level higher in the Offense Severity Ranking Chart, and provides the following definitions:

- "Authority figure" means a school officer, a teacher or other instructional person, an administrator or other school administrative person, a school volunteer, an educational support employee, or an education service provider who is employed by, under contract with, working at, or providing volunteer services to an educational institution;
- "Educational institution" means an entity providing instructional programs of study by means of regular classes, activities, or courses, including virtual courses, to students in early learning programs or in prekindergarten through grade 12; and
- "Student" means a child who is enrolled in early learning or prekindergarten through grade 12.

On January 30, 2014, the Criminal Justice Impact Conference determined that this bill will have an insignificant prison bed impact on the Department of Corrections.

The bill is effective October 1, 2014.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Criminal Penalties and the Ranking Chart

Sections 775.082 and 775.083, F.S., establish the following penalties applicable to felony offenses:

- A capital felony must be punished by death if a sentencing proceeding results in findings by the court that the person must be punished by death, otherwise the person must be punished by life imprisonment and is ineligible for parole;
- A life felony committed on or after July 1, 1995, is punishable by a term of imprisonment for life or by imprisonment for a term of years not exceeding life imprisonment and a $15,000 fine;
- A first degree felony is punishable by up to 30 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine;
- A second degree felony is punishable by up to 15 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine; and
- A third degree felony is punishable by up to 5 years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

The Criminal Punishment Code applies to sentencing for felony offenses committed on or after October 1, 1998.¹ Criminal offenses are ranked in the Offense Severity Ranking Chart from Level 1 (least severe) to Level 10 (most severe), and are assigned points based on the severity of the offense.² If an offense is not listed in the ranking chart, it defaults to a ranking based on the degree of the felony.³

A defendant's sentence is calculated based on points assigned for factors including: the offense for which the defendant is being sentenced; injury to the victim; additional offenses that the defendant committed at the time of the primary offense; the defendant's prior record, and other aggravating factors.⁴ A defendant's total sentence points are then entered into a mathematical computation that determines the defendant's lowest permissible sentence.⁵ The permissible sentence for an offense ranges from the calculated lowest permissible sentence to the statutory maximum for the primary offense (the statutory maximum sentences for felonies are described above).⁶

Penalties for Specified Sexual Offenses

Section 943.0435, F.S., contains a list of offenses that qualify a person as a sexual offender. The following chart describes each of these offenses, the felony degree of the offense, and the where the offense is ranked in the Offense Severity Ranking Chart.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

This bill appears to be exempt from the requirements of Article VII, Section 18 of the Florida Constitution because it is a criminal law.

2. Other:

None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

The bill does not appear to create a need for rulemaking or rulemaking authority.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

- 1. The reference to the offenses in s. 775.21(4)(a)1., F.S., is unnecessary. All of the offenses listed in this statute are contained in s. 943.0435(1)(a)1.a., F.S., which the bill also references.
- 2. The bill reclassifies certain sex offenses if committed by an authority figure of an educational institution against a student of the educational institution. Some of these offenses already require that the offense be committed by a person with some type of custodial authority over the victim.⁷ For example, video voyeurism is a third degree felony (if committed by someone 19 or older), but is a second degree felony if committed by a person 18 or older who is employed at a school and who commits the offense against a student of the school.

"The Fifth Amendment's double jeopardy clause prohibits prosecuting an individual for...multiple punishments for the same offense." However, reclassification "does not create a new and separate offense, but changes the degree of the felony already charged.⁸ As such, the bill does not appear to raise double jeopardy concerns. However, since the Legislature has already specifically created criminal offenses involving offenders with custodial authority over their victims, it is questionable whether the bill's reclassification provisions should apply to these offenses.

3. The bill's definitions of the terms "authority figure," "educational institution," and "student" are unclear as to who they include. This could be resolved by using exiting statutory definitions found in the education code.
