SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) is responsible for all activities concerning insurers and other risk bearing entities authorized under the Florida Insurance Code. Regulatory oversight includes licensure, approval of rates and policy forms, market conduct and financial exams, solvency oversight, administrative supervision, and licensure of viatical settlement and premium finance companies, as provided in the Florida Insurance Code or ch. 636, F.S. The Florida Insurance Code contains provisions designed to prevent insurers from becoming insolvent and to protect policyholders. These provisions include minimum capital and surplus requirements and financial reporting requirements. Florida law requires that insurers and other risk-bearing entities obtain a certificate of authority (COA) prior to engaging in insurance transactions unless specifically exempted.

Current law provides an exemption from the requirement to obtain a COA for any insurer domiciled outside of the U.S. and covering only persons who, at the time of issuance or renewal, are nonresidents of the U.S. A "nonresident" is defined as a person who resides in and maintains a physical place of domicile in a country other than the U.S., and which (s)he intends to maintain as her or his permanent home.

The law further specifies that the insurer or any affiliated person under common ownership or control with the insurer may not solicit, sell, or accept application for any insurance policy or contract for issue or delivery to any U.S. resident. For purposes of this exemption, a U.S. resident is a person who has:

- Had her or his principal place of domicile in the United States for 180 days or more in the 365 days prior to issuance or renewal of the policy;
- Registered to vote in any state;
- Made a statement of domicile in any state; or,
- Filed for homestead tax exemption on property in any state.

To also be eligible for the exemption, the insurer must register with the OIR and provide certain relevant information to the OIR on an annual basis. The law further requires that the exempt insurer include a disclosure on all certificates issued in Florida reflecting that the policy has not been approved by the OIR.

The bill makes three primary changes to existing law. First, it deletes the reference to affiliated persons from the restriction on insurers soliciting or selling policies, or accepting applications. Thus, an insurer who has an affiliate will not be disqualified from obtaining an exemption. Second, the bill eliminates the prohibition on renewing policies to residents thereby allowing someone who was originally a nonresident at the time of issuance who subsequently becomes a resident to be insured under a non-regulated policy. Third, the bill modifies the definition of nonresident to include a trust or other entity organized and domiciled under the laws of a country other than the United States.

The bill does not have a fiscal impact on state or local government. It may have a positive, yet indeterminate, fiscal impact on the private sector.

The bill provides for an effective date of July 1, 2012.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

The Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) is responsible for all activities concerning insurers and other risk bearing entities authorized under the Florida Insurance Code.[1] Regulatory oversight includes licensure, approval of rates and policy forms, market conduct and financial exams, solvency oversight, administrative supervision, and licensure of viatical settlement and premium finance companies, as provided in the Florida Insurance Code or ch. 636, F.S.[2] The OIR's Life and Health Financial Oversight unit monitors financial conditions through the use of internal financial analysis and on-site examinations.[3] Periodic financial report submission is part of the monitoring process. The Florida Insurance Code contains provisions designed to prevent insurers from becoming insolvent and to protect policyholders. These provisions include minimum capital and surplus requirements[4] and financial reporting requirements.[5] Florida law requires that insurers and other risk-bearing entities obtain a certificate of authority (COA) prior to engaging in insurance transactions[6, 7] unless specifically exempted.[8]

Current law provides an exemption from the requirement to obtain a COA for any insurer domiciled outside of the U.S. and covering only persons who, at the time of issuance or renewal, are nonresidents of the U.S.[9] A "nonresident" is defined as a person who resides in and maintains a physical place of domicile in a country other than the U.S., and which (s)he intends to maintain as her or his permanent home.

The bill requires that the exempt insurer include a disclosure on all certificates issued in Florida reflecting that the policy has not been approved by the OIR. The insurer or any affiliated person under common ownership or control with the insurer may not solicit, sell, or accept application for any insurance policy or contract for issue or delivery to any U.S. resident. For purposes of this subsection of statute, a U.S. resident is a person who has:

- Had her or his principal place of domicile in the United States for 180 days or more in the 365 days prior to issuance or renewal of the policy;
- Registered to vote in any state;
- Made a statement of domicile in any state; or,
- Filed for homestead tax exemption on property in any state.

Other exemption eligibility provisions require the insurer to:

- Register with the OIR.
- Provide the following information to the OIR on annual basis:
    - Names of the owners, officers and directors and number of employees.
    - Lines of insurance and types of products offered.
    - A statement from the applicable regulatory body of the insurer's domicile certifying that the insurer is licensed or registered in that domicile.
    - A copy of filings required by the insurer's domicile.

The bill makes three primary changes to existing law. First, it deletes the reference to affiliated persons from the restriction on insurers soliciting or selling policies, or accepting applications. Thus, an insurer who has an affiliate will not be disqualified from obtaining an exemption. Second, the bill eliminates the

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

   None.

2. Expenditures:

   None.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

   None.

2. Expenditures:

   None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

Expanding the current exemption from the COA requirement for insurers domiciled outside of the U.S. and covering only persons who, at the time of issuance or renewal, are nonresidents of the U.S. may further allow for a variety of insurance offerings. Nonresidents, in their domicile outside the U.S., may be able to purchase more health, life, property and casualty, supplemental, and other types of insurance coverage for the time they are in Florida, and for their property in the state. More nonresidents may also visit Florida to avail themselves of services covered under the policy or contract. Hence, revenue from tourism may increase.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

None.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

   Not applicable. This bill does not appear to: require counties or municipalities to spend funds or take an action requiring the expenditure of funds; reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate; or reduce the percentage of a state tax shared with counties or municipalities.

2. Other:

None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

None.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

In its Bill Analysis for HB 409, OIR stated:

> At subsection (8)(a), the legislation deletes the phrase "or renewal" – thus potentially expanding the number of companies exempt from the requirement to obtain a Certificate of Authority – and could allow current residents of Florida to have policies with companies that do not have a certificate of authority if the person became a resident after the policy was issued. The Office recommends keeping the "or renewal" language in the statute.[10]

SUMMARY ANALYSIS

Section 627.4554, F.S., provides protections for consumers 65 years of age and older in annuity transactions. The section, enacted in 2004, adopted the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) Senior Protection in Annuity Transactions Model Regulation of 2003. In 2008, the Legislature amended the law to provide additional safeguards for senior consumers that are not in the NAIC's model regulation. These include requiring insurers and agents to document on forms promulgated by the Department of Financial Services (DFS): (1) information obtained from consumers relating to the suitability of a particular product for the consumer and (2) explaining the differences between the policies recommended by the agent or insurer and existing policies, for transactions involving the exchange of policies. In both circumstances, insurers and agents are required to provide the consumer with a signed copy of the completed DFS form. The legislation also authorizes the Office of Insurance Regulation to take reasonably appropriate corrective actions against insurers for violation of s. 627.4554, F.S., including rescission of the policy or contract and a full refund of the premiums paid or the accumulation value, whichever is greater. In 2010, the Legislature also increased the unconditional refund period for senior consumers to 21 days and required insurers to attach a cover page, with specified information, to any annuity policy sold.

The bill amends s. 627.4554, F.S., to incorporate into Florida law the most current version of the NAIC model regulation on annuity protections (the 2010 NAIC Model). The 2010 NAIC Model, which has been enacted by 19 states, including California and New York, provides annuity protections for consumers of any age; insurer review of every annuity transaction; and an annuity training program for agents. It also clarifies that insurers are responsible for compliance with annuity protection provisions, even when they contract with third parties. The 2010 NAIC Model, however, does not reflect the 2008 changes to s. 627.4554, F.S. The bill also decreases the unconditional refund period for senior consumers from 21 to 14 days and eliminates the requirement that insurers attach a cover page to each annuity policy sold.

The DFS informs that the additional continuing education courses it would need to approve and administratively support would require an additional FTE in the Division of Agent & Agency Services. Costs would also be incurred in modifying DFS's education database. OIR reports that the bill will result in an increase in form re-filings, and thus an increased workload.

The bill is effective July 1, 2012.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background

Annuities[1]

An annuity is a contract between a buyer and an insurance company that provides guaranteed payments over a period of time. Annuities are designed to meet retirement and long-range planning goals,[2] and are long-term contracts that typically restrict an investor's ability to access their money.

There are two basic types of annuities, fixed and variable. Fixed annuities guarantee both the rate of return and the amount of payout. Variable annuities do not guarantee the rate of return, which can fluctuate based on the performance of underlying investment options chosen by the purchaser.

Fixed and variable annuities are available as either immediate or deferred annuities. Typically, premiums for immediate annuities are paid in a lump sum amount, and the purchaser receives an immediate and regular stream of payments for a period of time. Variable annuities generally involve an accumulation phase, during which premiums paid experience tax-deferred growth, and the payout phase (annuitization phase) when the annuity provides a regular stream of periodic payments to the purchaser.

Fixed annuities are considered insurance contracts because of the mortality risk associated with payout options, and are regulated by state insurance departments. With a variable annuity, premium dollars are placed into a variety of investment options called subaccounts. Because variable annuities involve risk and provide no guarantee of principal, they are considered investments and fall within the jurisdiction of both securities regulators and state insurance departments. Agents selling variable annuities must hold a variable annuity license from the state and also possess a securities license and hold an active securities registration with a broker dealer. As investments, variable annuities also have accompanying prospectuses with disclosures regarding risk. All sales of variable annuities are subject to suitability standards established by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA).[3]

Equity indexed annuities are considered a hybrid of both fixed and variable annuities. They are classified, defined, and regulated as fixed annuities. In contrast to a traditional fixed annuity, which provides a stated guaranteed rate of interest, equity indexed annuities provide a minimum guaranteed interest rate in combination with an index-linked component. A guaranteed minimum interest rate may still create a loss of principal if the guarantee is based on an amount less than the amount of premium or initial payment. Investors who find it necessary to cancel an annuity to access funds prior to maturity of the contract may also lose principal through detrimental features such as surrender charges, hidden penalties, costs, fees, and massive multi-year surrender charges.

Determining whether an Annuity is a Suitable Investment for a Consumer: Suitability Issues

In 2003, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) adopted the "Senior Protection in Annuity Transactions Model Regulation" (Model Regulation), designed to help protect senior citizens when they purchase or exchange annuity products. In 2004, Florida adopted the Model Regulation by creating s. 627.4554, F.S. This section provides protection for senior citizens in annuity transactions, requiring insurance companies and agents offering these products to clearly document the basis for selling the product, including consideration of a senior citizen's financial and tax status, as well as investment objectives. In 2006, the NAIC removed the age restriction from its Model Regulation, extending annuity protections to consumers of any age.

In 2008, Florida amended s. 627.4554, F.S. Although the legislation did not incorporate the 2006 change to the Model Regulation, it provided additional safeguards for senior consumers, including:

- Requiring insurers and agents to have an "objectively" reasonable basis for recommending a particular annuity product.
- Specifying the minimum information that an insurer or agent must obtain and use to determine the suitability of a recommendation before executing a purchase or exchange of a policy.
- Requiring suitability information obtained from a consumer to be recorded on a Department of Financial Services' (DFS) form, which must be completed and signed by the applicant and the agent, with a copy given to the consumer.
- Requiring the insurer or agent, in exchange situations, to provide the consumer with specified information, on a DFS form, concerning differences between the policy being recommended for purchase and an existing policy that would be surrendered or replaced.
- Increasing the "free look" refund period.
- Authorizing the Office of Insurance Regulation to rescind an annuity and provide a full refund of premiums paid or the accumulation value, whichever is greater, when a consumer is harmed by a violation of the suitability statute.

In 2010, the Legislature also increased the unconditional refund period for senior consumers in annuity transactions to 21 days and required insurers to attach a cover page with specified information, including notice of the refund period, contact information, and the name of the issuing company and selling agent, to each annuity sold.[4]

In March 2010, the NAIC revised its Model Regulation to clarify that insurers are responsible for compliance with the model's requirements, even if the insurer contracts with a third party; requiring insurers to review all annuity transactions; and establishing both general and product-specific training requirements for insurance agents.

To date, 19 states, including New York and California, have adopted the 2010 version of the NAIC's Model Regulation.

Effect of the Bill

The bill amends s. 627.4554, F.S., to incorporate into Florida law the most recent version of the NAIC's Model Regulation on protections in annuity transactions. The bill makes the following changes to existing law:

- Extends the protections currently afforded to senior citizens to consumers of any age and sophistication level.
- Revises definitions; defines additional terms relevant to annuity transactions, including Annuity, FINRA (Financial Regulatory Authority), Recommendation, Replacement, and Suitability Information.
- Requires insurers or agents to have reasonable grounds (as opposed to "objectively" reasonable grounds under current law) for believing that recommendations made to a consumer to purchase, exchange, or replace annuity products are suitable to the consumer's circumstances and that there are reasonable grounds to believe that:
    - The consumer has been reasonably informed of specified information.
    - The consumer would benefit from the product recommended.
    - That the annuity as a whole (or the exchange or replacement of a policy) is suitable for the consumer.

[4] Section 626.99, F.S.

- Prohibits agents from dissuading, or attempting to dissuade a consumer from truthfully responding to an insurer's request for confirmation of suitability information, or from cooperating with the investigation of a complaint.
- Clarifies that compliance with FINRA requirements constitutes compliance with s. 627.4554, F.S.
- Establishes training requirements for agents, including completion of a one-time annuity training course approved by the DFS, which must qualify for at least 4 hours of continuing education credit; and requiring agents to have sufficient knowledge of an annuity product and to be in compliance with the insurer's standard for product training, prior to soliciting the sale of a product .
- Requires insurers to verify that agents have completed the training.
- Provides that insurers are responsible for ensuring compliance with the law.
- Requires insurers to establish a supervision system that is reasonably designed to achieve insurer and agent compliance with this section, which must include procedures for the review of each recommendation before issuance of an annuity; specified training materials; and annual reports to senior managers to determine the effectiveness of the supervision system. Permits insurers to contract with a third party as to any aspect of the supervision system, but provides that insurers remain responsible for compliance.
- Requires insurers or agents to make reasonable efforts to obtain suitability information from consumers and to document recommendations that result in annuity transactions; eliminates the requirement that the information be recorded on a DFS form, with a copy of the completed form being given to the consumer.
- When an annuity product is to be exchanged or replaced, removes the requirement that the consumer be given specified information, on a DFS form, explaining the differences between the products being recommended for purchase and the policies that are being surrendered or replaced.

The bill also amends s. 626.99, F.S., to decrease the unconditional refund period from 21 to 14 days for senior consumers and removes the requirement that insurers attach a cover page with specified information to every annuity policy sold.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1. Amends s. 627.4554, F.S., to incorporate the 2010 amendments to NAIC's model regulation on protections in annuity transactions into Florida law.

Section 2. Amends s. 626.99, F.S., to provide a 14 day unconditional refund period for senior consumers who purchase annuities and to eliminate the requirement that a cover page with specified information be attached to all annuity policies sold.

Section 3. Provides an effective date of July 1, 2012.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

   None.

2. Expenditures:

   The DFS informs that the additional continuing education courses it would need to approve and administratively support would require an additional FTE (Insurance Analyst II) in the Division of Agent & Agency Services. Costs would also be incurred in modifying DFS's education database. OIR reports that the bill will result in an increase in form re-filings, and thus an increased workload.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

   None.

2. Expenditures:

   None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

To the extent that the bill provides for enactment of the most recent version of the NAIC model regulation on annuity protections, adopted by the NAIC in 2010 and enacted in 19 states to date, it will bring further uniformity to the sale of annuity products by insurers conducting business in multiple states.

The requirement for agents who sell annuities to take additional continuing education courses approved by the DFS increases the regulatory burden on insurers and agents.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

The DFS informs that the additional continuing education courses it would need to approve and administratively support would require an additional FTE in the Division of Agent & Agency Services. Costs would also be incurred in modifying DFS's education database. OIR reports that the bill will result in an increase in form re-filings, and thus an increased workload.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

   Not applicable. This bill does not appear to: require counties or municipalities to spend funds or take an action requiring the expenditure of funds; reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate; or, reduce the percentage of a state tax shared with counties or municipalities.

2. Other:

   To the extent that the bill extends the protections of s. 627.4554, F.S., to all purchasers of annuities, it will protect a greater number of consumers in annuity transactions. However, the bill eliminates some standardized DFS forms that are currently used by insurers and agents to document suitability information obtained from senior consumers; to provide comparative information when an annuity transaction involves the exchange or surrender of a current policy; and the requirement that each annuity policy sold to a senior contain a cover page with specified information.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

Authorizes the DFS to adopt rules to administer s. 627.4554, F.S.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

Staff has been informed that amendments will be filed that make technical changes, increase the unconditional refund period from 14 to 21 days for all consumers, delete the additional training requirements, and change the effective date of the bill to allow sufficient time for insurers to file forms for approval with the Office of Insurance Regulation.

64 surrendered, assigned to the replacing insurer, or otherwise
65 terminated;
66 2. Converted to reduced paid-up insurance, continued as 67 extended term insurance, or otherwise reduced in value due to
68 the use of nonforfeiture benefits or other policy values;
69 3. Amended so as to effect a reduction in benefits or the 70 term for which coverage would otherwise remain in force or for 71 which benefits would be paid;
72 4. Reissued with a reduction in cash value; or
73 5. Used in a financed purchase.
74 (g) "Suitability information" means information related to 75 the consumer that is reasonably appropriate to determine the 76 suitability of a recommendation made to the consumer, including
77 the following:
78 1. Age;
79 2. Annual income;
80 3. Financial situation and needs, including the financial 81 resources used for funding the annuity;
82 4. Financial experience;
83 5. Financial objectives;
84 6. Intended use of the annuity;

85 7. Financial time horizon;
86 8. Existing assets, including investment and life
87 insurance holdings;
88 9. Liquidity needs;
89 10. Liquid net worth;
90 11. Risk tolerance; and
91 12. Tax status.
92 (4) EXEMPTIONS.—This section does not apply to 93 transactions involving:
94 (a) Direct-response solicitations if the recommendation is
95 not based on suitability information collected from the consumer
96 pursuant to this section;
97 (b) Contracts used to fund:
98 1. An employee pension or welfare benefit plan that is
99 covered by the federal Employee Retirement and Income Security
100 Act;
101 2. A plan described by s. 401(a), s. 401(k), s. 403(b), s.
102 408(k), or s. 408(p) of the Internal Revenue Code, if
103 established or maintained by an employer;
104 3. A government or church plan defined in s. 414 of the
105 Internal Revenue Code, a government or church welfare benefit
106 plan, or a deferred compensation plan of a state or local 107 government or tax-exempt organization under s. 457 of the 108 Internal Revenue Code;
109 4. A nonqualified deferred compensation arrangement
110 established or maintained by an employer or plan sponsor;
111 5. Settlements or assumptions of liabilities associated
112 with personal injury litigation or any dispute or claim-

113 resolution process; or
114 6. Formal prepaid funeral contracts.
115 (5) DUTIES OF INSURERS AND AGENTS.—
116 (a) When recommending the purchase or exchange of an
117 annuity to a consumer which results in an insurance transaction
118 or series of insurance transactions, the insurer or its agent
119 must have reasonable grounds for believing that the 120 recommendation is suitable for the consumer, based on the 121 consumer's suitability information, and that there is a
122 reasonable basis to believe all of the following:
123 1. The consumer has been reasonably informed of various
124 features of the annuity, such as the potential surrender period
125 and surrender charge; potential tax penalty if the consumer
126 sells, exchanges, surrenders, or annuitizes the annuity;
127 mortality and expense fees; investment advisory fees; potential
128 charges for and features of riders; limitations on interest
129 returns; insurance and investment components; and market risk.
130 2. The consumer would benefit from certain features of the 131 annuity, such as tax-deferred growth, annuitization, or the 132 death or living benefit.
133 3. The particular annuity as a whole, the underlying
134 subaccounts to which funds are allocated at the time of purchase
135 or exchange of the annuity, and riders and similar product
136 enhancements, if any, are suitable; and, in the case of an 137 exchange or replacement, the transaction as a whole is suitable
138 for the particular consumer based on his or her suitability
139 information.
140 4. In the case of an exchange or replacement of an

141 annuity, the exchange or replacement is suitable after taking
142 into consideration whether the consumer:
143 a. Will incur a surrender charge; be subject to the 144 commencement of a new surrender period; lose existing benefits,
145 such as death, living, or other contractual benefits; or be
146 subject to increased fees, investment advisory fees, or charges
147 for riders and similar product enhancements;
148 b. Would benefit from product enhancements and 149 improvements; and
150 c. Has had another annuity exchange or replacement, in
151 particular, an exchange or replacement within the preceding 36
152 months.
153 (b) Before executing a purchase, exchange, or replacement
154 of an annuity resulting from a recommendation, an insurer or its
155 agent must make reasonable efforts to obtain the consumer's
156 suitability information.
157 (c) Except as provided under paragraph (d), an insurer may
158 not issue an annuity recommended to a consumer unless there is a
159 reasonable basis to believe the annuity is suitable based on the 160 consumer's suitability information.
161 (d) An insurer's issuance of an annuity must be reasonable
162 based on all the circumstances actually known to the insurer at 163 the time the annuity is issued. However, an insurer or its agent
164 does not have an obligation to a consumer related to an annuity
165 transaction under paragraph (a) or paragraph (c) if:
166 1. A recommendation has not been made;
167 2. A recommendation was made and is later found to have 168 been based on materially inaccurate information provided by the

CODING: Words ~~stricken~~ are deletions; words underlined are additions.

169 consumer;
170 3. A consumer refuses to provide relevant suitability
171 information and the annuity transaction is not recommended; or
172 4. A consumer decides to enter into an annuity transaction
173 that is not based on a recommendation of an insurer or its 174 agent.
175 (e) At the time of sale, the agent or the agent's
176 representative must:
177 1. Make a record of any recommendation made to the 178 consumer pursuant to paragraph (a);
179 2. Obtain the consumer's signed statement documenting his 180 or her refusal to provide suitability information, if 181 applicable; and
182 3. Obtain the consumer's signed statement acknowledging
183 that an annuity transaction is not recommended if he or she 184 decides to enter into an annuity transaction that is not based 185 on the insurer's or its agent's recommendation, if applicable.
186 (f) An insurer shall establish a supervision system that
187 is reasonably designed to achieve the insurer's and its agent's
188 compliance with this section.
189 1. Such system must include, but is not limited to:
190 a. Maintaining reasonable procedures to inform its agents
191 of the requirements of this section and incorporating those 192 requirements into relevant agent training manuals;
193 b. Establishing standards for agent product training and 194 maintaining reasonable procedures that require its agents to 195 comply with subsection (7);
196 c. Providing product-specific training and training

197 materials that explain all material features of its annuity
198 products to its agents;
199 d. Maintaining procedures for the review of each
200 recommendation before issuance of an annuity which are designed 201 to ensure that there is a reasonable basis for determining that
202 a recommendation is suitable. Such review procedures may use a
203 screening system for identifying selected transactions for 204 additional review and may be accomplished electronically or 205 through other means, including, but not limited to, physical 206 review. Such electronic or other system may be designed to 207 require additional review only of those transactions identified
208 for additional review using established selection criteria;
209 e. Maintaining reasonable procedures to detect
210 recommendations that are not suitable. These may include, but
211 are not limited to, confirmation of consumer suitability
212 information, systematic customer surveys, consumer interviews,
213 confirmation letters, and internal monitoring programs. This
214 sub-subparagraph does not prevent an insurer from using sampling
215 procedures or from confirming suitability information after the 216 issuance or delivery of the annuity; and 217 f. Annually providing a report to senior managers,
218 including the senior manager who is responsible for audit
219 functions, which details a review, along with appropriate
220 testing, which is reasonably designed to determine the 221 effectiveness of the supervision system, the exceptions found,
222 and corrective action taken or recommended, if any.
223 2. An insurer is not required to include in its 224 supervision system agent recommendations to consumers of

225 products other than the annuities offered by the insurer.
226 3. An insurer may contract for performance of a function
227 required under subparagraph 1.
228 a. If an insurer contracts for the performance of a
229 function, the insurer must include the supervision of 230 contractual performance as part of those procedures listed in 231 subparagraph 1. These include, but are not limited to:
232 (I) Monitoring and, as appropriate, conducting audits to 233 ensure that the contracted function is properly performed; and 234 (II) Annually obtaining a certification from a senior
235 manager who has responsibility for the contracted function that 236 the manager has a reasonable basis for representing that the 237 function is being properly performed.
238 b. An insurer is responsible for taking appropriate
239 corrective action and may be subject to sanctions and penalties
240 pursuant to subsection (8) regardless of whether the insurer
241 contracts for performance of a function and regardless of the
242 insurer's compliance with sub-subparagraph a.
243 (g) An agent may not dissuade, or attempt to dissuade, a
244 consumer from:
245 1. Truthfully responding to an insurer's request for 246 confirmation of suitability information;
247 2. Filing a complaint; or
248 3. Cooperating with the investigation of a complaint.
249 (h) Sales made in compliance with FINRA requirements
250 pertaining to the suitability and supervision of annuity
251 transactions must satisfy the requirements of this section. This 252 paragraph applies to FINRA broker-dealer sales of variable

253 annuities and fixed annuities if the suitability and supervision
254 is similar to those applied to variable annuity sales. However,
255 this paragraph does not limit the ability of the office or the 256 department to enforce, including investigate, the provisions of 257 this section. For this paragraph to apply, an insurer must:
258 1. Monitor the FINRA member broker-dealer using
259 information collected in the normal course of an insurer's
260 business; and
261 2. Provide to the FINRA member broker-dealer information
262 and reports that are reasonably appropriate to assist the FINRA
263 member broker-dealer in maintaining its supervision system.
264 (6) RECORDKEEPING.—
265 (a) Insurers and agents must maintain or be able to make
266 available to the office or department records of the information
267 collected from the consumer and other information used in making
268 the recommendations that were the basis for insurance
269 transactions for 5 years after the insurance transaction is 270 completed by the insurer. An insurer may maintain the 271 documentation on behalf of its agent.
272 (b) Records required to be maintained under this
273 subsection may be maintained in paper, photographic,
274 microprocess, magnetic, mechanical, or electronic media, or by
275 any process that accurately reproduces the actual document.
276 (7) AGENT TRAINING.—
277 (a) An agent may not solicit the sale of an annuity
278 product unless the agent has sufficient knowledge of the product
279 to recommend the annuity and the agent is in compliance with the 280 insurer's standards for product training. An agent may rely on

281 insurer-provided, product-specific training standards and 282 materials in order to comply with this paragraph.
283 (b) An agent who engages in the sale of annuity products
284 must complete a one-time annuity training course approved by the 285 department.
286 1. The minimum length of the training course must be
287 sufficient to qualify for at least 4 hours of continuing
288 education under s. 626.2815, but may be longer.
289 2. The training must include information on the following
290 topics:
291 a. The types of annuities and various classifications of
292 annuities.
293 b. Identification of the parties to an annuity.
294 c. How fixed, variable, and indexed annuity contract
295 provisions affect consumers.
296 d. Income taxation of qualified and nonqualified
297 annuities.
298 e. The primary uses of annuities.
299 f. Appropriate sales practices, replacement, and
300 disclosure requirements.
301 3. The training course may be conducted and completed by 302 classroom or a self-study program in accordance with s.
303 626.2815.
304 (c) A provider of an annuity training course must comply
305 with s. 626.2816 and the rules applicable to continuing
306 education courses adopted under that section.
307 1. Providers must cover all topics listed in subparagraph
308 (b)2. and may not present any marketing information or provide

CODING: Words ~~stricken~~ are deletions; words underlined are additions.

309 training on sales techniques or provide specific information
310 about a particular insurer's products. Additional topics may be 311 offered in conjunction with the required topics.
312 2. Providers must comply with the reporting requirements
313 and issue certificates of completion in accordance with s.
314 626.2815.
315 (d) An insurer shall verify that its agent has completed
316 the annuity training course required under this subsection
317 before allowing the agent to sell an annuity product for that
318 insurer. An insurer may satisfy this requirement by obtaining
319 certificates of completion of the training course or obtaining
320 reports provided by office-sponsored database systems or vendors
321 or from a reasonably reliable commercial database vendor that
322 has a reporting arrangement with approved insurance education
323 providers.
324 (e) Agents that hold a life insurance line of authority on
325 July 1, 2012, and that desire to sell annuities must complete
326 the annuity training course within 6 months after that date.
327 Individuals who obtain a life insurance line of authority on or
328 after July 1, 2012, may not engage in the sale of annuities
329 until the annuity training course has been completed.
330 (f) Satisfaction of the training requirements of another
331 state which are substantially similar to this subsection satisfy
332 the training requirements of this subsection.
333 (8) COMPLIANCE MITIGATION; PENALTIES.—
334 (a) An insurer is responsible for compliance with this
335 section. If a violation occurs because of the action or inaction
336 of the insurer or its agent, the office may order an insurer to

337 take reasonably appropriate corrective action for a consumer
338 harmed by the insurer's or by its agent's violation of this
339 section and may impose appropriate penalties and sanctions.
340 (b) The department may order:
341 1. An insurance agent to take reasonably appropriate
342 corrective action, including monetary restitution of penalties
343 or fees incurred by the consumer for any consumer harmed by a
344 violation of this section by the insurance agent and impose
345 appropriate penalties and sanctions.
346 2. A managing general agency or insurance agency that 347 employs or contracts with an insurance agent to sell or solicit
348 the sale of annuities to consumers must take reasonably
349 appropriate corrective action for a consumer harmed by a
350 violation of this section by the insurance agent.
351 (c) In addition to any other penalty authorized under 352 chapter 626, the department shall order an insurance agent to 353 pay restitution to a consumer who has been deprived of money by 354 the agent's misappropriation, conversion, or unlawful 355 withholding of moneys belonging to the senior consumer in the 356 course of a transaction involving annuities. The amount of 357 restitution required to be paid may not exceed the amount
358 misappropriated, converted, or unlawfully withheld. This 359 paragraph does not limit or restrict a person's right to seek 360 other remedies as provided by law.
361 (d) Any applicable penalty under the Florida Insurance
362 Code for a violation of this section shall be reduced or 363 eliminated according to a schedule adopted by the office or the 364 department, as appropriate, if corrective action for the

CODING: Words ~~stricken~~ are deletions; words underlined are additions.

365 consumer was taken promptly after a violation was discovered.
366 (e) A violation of this section does not create or imply a
367 private cause of action.
368 (9) RULES.—The department may adopt rules to administer
369 this section.
370 Section 2. Subsection (4) of section 626.99, Florida
371 Statutes, is amended to read:
372 626.99 Life insurance solicitation.—
373 (4) DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS.—
374 (a) The insurer shall provide to each prospective
375 purchaser a buyer's guide and a policy summary prior to 376 accepting the applicant's initial premium or premium deposit,
377 unless the policy for which application is made provides an 378 unconditional refund for a period of at least 14 days, or unless
379 the policy summary contains an offer of such an unconditional
380 refund. In these instances, the buyer's guide and policy summary
381 must be delivered with the policy or before prior to delivery of 382 the policy.
383 (b) With respect to fixed and variable annuities, the 384 policy must provide an unconditional refund for a period of at 385 least 14 days. For fixed annuities, the buyer's guide must shall 386 be in the form as provided by the National Association of
387 Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) Annuity Disclosure Model
388 Regulation, until such time as a buyer's guide is developed by 389 the department, at which time the department guide must be used.
390 For variable annuities, a policy summary may be used, which may
391 be contained in a prospectus, until such time as a buyer's guide
392 is developed by NAIC or the department, at which time one of

393 those guides must be used. ~~If the prospective owner of an~~

SUMMARY ANALYSIS

In Florida, workers' compensation insurers do not file their own rates. Rather, rate filings are made by the National Council on Compensation Insurance, the designated licensed rating and statistical organization for Florida's workers' compensation insurers. Workers' compensation rate filings are submitted to the Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) and ultimately either approved or disapproved after a public hearing.

Pursuant to s. 627.215, F.S., workers' compensation insurers (and insurers in specified other lines) are required to return excess profits to the businesses they insure. The law requires companies to report the following data to the OIR: calendar year earned premium; accident year incurred losses and loss adjustment expenses; administrative and selling expenses incurred in Florida or allocated to the state for the calendar year; and policyholder dividends applicable to the calendar year. An excess profit is realized if an insurer's underwriting gains are greater than the anticipated underwriting profit, plus five percent, for the three most recent calendar years. Insurers that realize excess profits are required to issue refunds to policyholders in the form of cash or a credit. The OIR reports that workers' compensation insurers have returned over $200 million in excess profits to their policyholders since 2003.

The bill excludes workers' compensation insurers from excess profit provisions. The excess profit law for workers' compensation was enacted in 1979 to coincide with the implementation of a wage-loss benefit reform (no longer utilized) to protect employers by ensuring that excess profits generated by the expected reduction in benefits for injured workers were returned to employers.

Supporters of the excess profit law believe that it is important because it protects against potential shortcomings in the promulgated rate system that may lead to a windfall for certain employers. Opponents believe that since rates are set by the state, and not by the insurance company, the law penalizes insurers for efficiencies that allow them to realize higher profits than competitors. Opponents also believe that elimination of the excess profit law would encourage more insurers to write workers' compensation insurance in Florida.

The bill has no fiscal impact on state and local government. Workers' compensation insurers will be able to retain any profits realized, and insured businesses will no longer receive refunds based on an insurer's excess profits.

The law is effective July 1, 2012.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background

Workers' Compensation Premiums in Florida

In Florida, workers' compensation insurers do not file their own rates. Rather, rate filings are made by the National Council on Compensation Insurance, the designated licensed rating and statistical organization for Florida's workers' compensation insurers. Workers' compensation rate filings are submitted to the Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) and ultimately either approved or disapproved after a public hearing.

Excess Profits Law

Pursuant to s. 627.215, F.S., workers' compensation insurers (and insurers in specified other lines) are required to return "excess profits" to the businesses they insure. The law requires companies to report the following data to the OIR: calendar year earned premium; accident year incurred losses and loss adjustment expenses; administrative and selling expenses incurred in Florida or allocated to the state for the calendar year; and policyholder dividends applicable to the calendar year. An excess profit is realized if an insurer's underwriting gains are greater than the anticipated underwriting profit, plus five percent, for the three most recent calendar years. Insurers that realize excess profits are required to issue refunds to policyholders in the form of cash or a credit. The OIR reports that workers' compensation insurers have returned over $200 million in excess profits to their policyholders since 2003.[1]

The excess profit law for workers' compensation was enacted in 1979 to coincide with the implementation of a wage-loss benefit reform (no longer utilized) to protect employers by ensuring that excess profits generated by the expected reduction in benefits for injured workers' were returned to employers.

Effect of the Bill

The bill excludes workers' compensation insurers from excess profit provisions.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1. Amends s. 627.215, F.S., to exclude workers' compensation from excess profit provisions.

Section 2. Amends s. 628.6017, F.S., to provide a conforming change.

Section 3. Provides an effective date of July 1, 2012.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

   None.

2. Expenditures:

[1] OIR analysis of HB 4169, dated January 5, 2012. On file with staff of the Insurance & Banking Subcommittee.

None.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

None.

2. Expenditures:

None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

Insurers that most effectively manage their risks will be able to retain additional profits realized from their efforts. Additional workers' compensation insurers will likely consider writing business in the state as the limitation on excess profits is removed.

Businesses will no longer be entitled to refunds that resulted from an insurer's excess profits.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

Insurers will be able to retain higher profits that otherwise would have been returned to employers.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

Not applicable. This bill does not appear to: require counties or municipalities to spend funds or take an action requiring the expenditure of funds; reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate; or, reduce the percentage of a state tax shared with counties or municipalities.

2. Other:

None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

None.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

To eliminate uncertainty and avoid litigation, it may be useful to include language that excess profits for workers' compensation and employers liability is eliminated for any years that are required to be filed on July 1, 2012 and subsequently, but that excess profits for prior years are not affected by the bill.

Supporters of the excess profit law believe that it is important because it protects against potential shortcomings in the promulgated rate system that may lead to a windfall for certain employers. Opponents believe that since rates are set by the state, and not by the insurance company, the law penalizes insurers for efficiencies that allow them to realize higher profits than competitors. Opponents also believe that elimination of the excess profit law would encourage more insurers to write workers' compensation insurance in Florida.

55 ~~(2) Each insurer group writing workers' compensation and~~
56 ~~employer's liability insurance shall also file a schedule of~~

65 ~~accident year 1984, so that the reporting of 3 accident years~~
66 ~~under this revised evaluation will not take place until accident~~
67 ~~years 1985 and 1986 have become available. For reporting~~
68 ~~purposes unrelated to determining excessive profits, the loss~~
69 ~~and loss adjustment experience of each accident year shall~~
70 ~~continue to be reported until each accident year has been~~
71 ~~reported at eight stages of development.~~
72 (2)~~(3)~~(a) Each insurer group writing commercial property
73 insurance or commercial casualty insurance shall also file a
74 schedule of Florida loss and loss adjustment experience for each
75 of the 3 years previous to the most recent accident year. The 76 incurred losses and loss adjustment expenses shall be valued as 77 of December 31 of the first year following the latest accident
78 year, developed to an ultimate basis, and at two 12-month
79 intervals thereafter, each developed to an ultimate basis, so
80 that a total of 3 evaluations will be provided for each accident
81 year. The first year to be so reported shall be accident year
82 1987, which shall first be reported on or before July 1, 1989,
83 and the reporting of 3 accident years will not take place until 84 accident years 1988 and 1989 have become available. For medical

85 malpractice insurance, the first year to be so reported shall be
86 accident year 1990, which shall first be reported on or before
87 July 1, 1992, and the reporting of 3 accident years for full
88 inclusion of medical malpractice experience in commercial
89 casualty insurance will not take place until accident years 1991
90 and 1992 become available. Accordingly, no medical malpractice
91 insured shall be eligible for refunds or credits until the 92 reporting period ending with calendar-accident year 1992. For 93 reporting purposes unrelated to determining excess profits, the 94 loss and loss adjustment experience of each accident year shall
95 continue to be reported until each accident year has been
96 reported at eight stages of development.
97 (b) Each insurer group writing commercial umbrella
98 liability insurance which elects to file separate data for such
99 insurance shall also file a schedule of Florida loss and loss
100 adjustment experience for each of the 10 years previous to the 101 most recent accident year. The incurred losses and loss
102 adjustment expenses shall be valued as of December 31 of the 103 first year following the latest accident year, developed to an
104 ultimate basis, and at nine 12-month intervals thereafter, each
105 developed to an ultimate basis, so that a total of 10
106 evaluations will be provided for each accident year. The first 107 year to be so reported shall be accident year 1987, which shall 108 first be reported on or before October 1, 1989, and the 109 reporting of 10 accident years will not take place until 110 accident year 1996 data is reported.
111 (3) ~~(4)~~ Each insurer group's underwriting gain or loss for 112 each calendar-accident year shall be computed as follows: The

CODING: Words ~~stricken~~ are deletions; words underlined are additions.

113 sum of the accident-year incurred losses and loss adjustment
114 expenses as of December 31 of the year, developed to an ultimate 115 basis, plus the administrative and selling expenses incurred in 116 the calendar year, plus policyholder dividends applicable to the 117 calendar year, shall be subtracted from the calendar-year earned
118 premium to determine the underwriting gain or loss.
119 (4)~~(5)~~ For the 3 most recent calendar-accident years for
120 which data is to be filed under this section, the underwriting
121 gain or loss shall be compared to the anticipated underwriting
122 profit, except in the case of separately reported commercial
123 umbrella liability insurance for which such comparison shall be 124 made for the 10 most recent calendar-accident years.
125 ~~(6) For those insurer groups writing workers' compensation~~
126 ~~and employer's liability insurance during the years 1984, 1985,~~
127 ~~1986, 1987, and 1988, an excessive profit has been realized if~~
128 ~~underwriting gain is greater than the anticipated underwriting~~
129 ~~profit plus 5 percent of earned premiums for the 3 most recent~~
130 ~~calendar years for which data is to be filed under this section.~~
131 ~~Any excess profit of an insurance company offering workers'~~
132 ~~compensation or employer's liability insurance during this~~
133 ~~period of time, shall be returned to policyholders in the form~~
134 ~~of a cash refund or a credit toward future purchase of~~
135 ~~insurance. The excessive amount shall be refunded on a pro rata~~
136 ~~basis in relation to the final compilation year earned premiums~~
137 ~~to the workers' compensation policyholders of record of the~~
138 ~~insurer group on December 31 of the final compilation year.~~
139 (5)~~(7)~~(a) Beginning with the July 1, 1991, report for

142 insurance, an excessive profit has been realized if the net
143 aggregate underwriting gain for ~~all~~ these lines combined is
144 greater than the net aggregate anticipated underwriting profit
145 for these lines plus 5 percent of earned premiums for the 3 most 146 recent calendar years for which data is to be filed under this
147 section. For calculation purposes commercial property insurance
148 and commercial casualty insurance shall be broken down into
149 sublines in order to ascertain the anticipated underwriting
150 profit factor versus the actual underwriting gain for the given 151 subline.

152 (b) Beginning with the July 1, 1998, report for commercial
153 umbrella liability insurance, if an insurer has elected to file
154 data separately for such insurance, an excessive profit has been 155 realized if the underwriting gain for such insurance is greater
156 than the anticipated underwriting profit for such insurance plus
157 5 percent of earned premiums for the 10 most recent calendar
158 years for which data is to be filed under this section.

159 (6)~~(8)~~ As used in this section with respect to any 3-year
160 period, or with respect to any 10-year period in the case of 161 commercial umbrella liability insurance, "anticipated
162 underwriting profit" means the sum of the dollar amounts
163 obtained by multiplying, for each rate filing of the insurer
164 group in effect during such period, the earned premiums
165 applicable to such rate filing during such period by the 166 percentage factor included in such rate filing for profit and
167 contingencies, such percentage factor having been determined
168 with due recognition to investment income from funds generated

169 by Florida business, except that the anticipated underwriting
170 profit for the purposes of this section shall be calculated
171 using a profit and contingencies factor that is not less than 172 zero. Separate calculations need not be made for consecutive
173 rate filings containing the same percentage factor for profits
174 and contingencies.

175 (7) ~~(9)~~ If the insurer group has realized an excessive
176 profit, the office shall order a return of the excessive amounts
177 after affording the insurer group an opportunity for hearing and 178 otherwise complying with the requirements of chapter 120. Such 179 excessive amounts shall be refunded in all instances unless the 180 insurer group affirmatively demonstrates to the office that the 181 refund of the excessive amounts will render a member of the 182 insurer group financially impaired or will render it insolvent
183 under the provisions of the Florida Insurance Code.

184 (8) ~~(10)~~ Any excess profit of an insurance company as 185 determined on July 1, 1991, and thereafter shall be returned to 186 policyholders in the form of a cash refund or a credit toward 187 the future purchase of insurance. The excessive amount shall be 188 refunded on a pro rata basis in relation to the final
189 compilation year earned premiums to the policyholders of record
190 of the insurer group on December 31 of the final compilation
191 year.

192 (9) ~~(11)~~(a) Cash refunds to policyholders may be rounded to 193 the nearest dollar.

194 (b) Data in required reports to the office may be rounded
195 to the nearest dollar.

196 (c) Rounding, if elected by the insurer, shall be applied

197 consistently.
198 (10)~~(12)~~(a) Refunds shall be completed in one of the 199 following ways:
200 1. If the insurer group elects to make a cash refund, the 201 refund shall be completed within 60 days of entry of a final
202 order indicating that excessive profits have been realized.
203 2. If the insurer group elects to make refunds in the form
204 of a credit to renewal policies, such credits shall be applied
205 to policy renewal premium notices which are forwarded to
206 insureds more than 60 calendar days after entry of a final order
207 indicating that excessive profits have been realized. If an 208 insurer group has made this election but an insured thereafter
209 cancels her or his policy or otherwise allows the policy to
210 terminate, the insurer group shall make a cash refund not later
211 than 60 days after termination of such coverage.
212 (b) Upon completion of the renewal credits or refund
213 payments, the insurer group shall immediately certify to the
214 office that the refunds have been made.
215 (11)~~(13)~~ Any refund or renewal credit made pursuant to
216 this section shall be treated as a policyholder dividend
217 applicable to the year immediately succeeding the compilation
218 period giving rise to the refund or credit, for purposes of 219 reporting under this section for subsequent years.
220 (12)~~(14)~~ The application of this law to commercial
221 property and commercial casualty insurance, which includes
222 commercial umbrella liability insurance, ceases on January 1,
223 1997.

224 Section 2. Subsection (4) of section 628.6017, Florida
225 Statutes, is amended to read:
226 628.6017 Converting assessable mutual insurer.—
227 (4) An assessable mutual insurer becoming a stock insurer
228 or a nonassessable mutual insurer shall not be subject to s.
229 627.215 or s. 627.351(5) for 5 years following authorization of 230 the conversion by the office. However, the converted stock
231 insurer or nonassessable mutual insurer shall file all necessary
232 data required by s. 627.215. Such amounts otherwise subject to 233 s. 627.215(8) ~~627.215(10)~~ shall be maintained as surplus as to 234 policyholders and not be available for dividends for a period of 235 5 years.
236 Section 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2012.

SUMMARY ANALYSIS

Under the workers' compensation system, health care providers that treat injured workers must be certified by the Department of Financial Services (DFS) to be eligible to receive reimbursement. The certification process includes the completion and submission of a "Health Care Provider Application for Certification," accompanied by proof of possession of a valid license issued by the Department of Health.

The bill repeals the certification requirement for health care providers in the workers' compensation system. As such providers are licensed by the Department of Health, the DFS believes that subsequent certification is redundant and is of no additional value.

The DFS informs that the bill will result in the reduction of 1 FTE and annual savings of $40,187.

The bill is effective on July 1, 2012.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background

Chapter 440, F.S., Florida's Workers' Compensation Law, requires health care providers to be certified by the Department of Financial Services (DFS) to be eligible for reimbursement for services rendered to injured workers.[1] The certification process includes the completion and submission of a "Health Care Provider Application for Certification" (Form DFS-3160-0020), accompanied by proof of possession of a valid license issued by the Department of Health.[2,3]

Effect of the Bill

The bill repeals the requirement that health care providers in the workers' compensation system be certified by the DFS to be eligible for reimbursement for services rendered. As such providers are already licensed by the Department of Health, the DFS states that subsequent certification is redundant and of no utility to the workers' compensation system.[4]

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1. Amends s. 440.13, F.S., to eliminate the requirement that health care providers in the workers' compensation system be certified by the DFS; removes references within the Workers' Compensation Law to certified providers.

Section 2. Amends s. 440.102, F.S., to conform a cross reference.

Section 3. Provides an effective date of July 1, 2012.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

2. Expenditures:

[3] The requirement that physicians also complete a five-hour course on cost containment, utilization control, and other topics to obtain certification was removed by ch. 2001-91, L.O.F. The health care provider application form, however, has not been amended to reflect this change.

2. Expenditures:

None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

The bill reduces the regulatory burden on health care providers that seek to participate in the workers' compensation system by eliminating an unnecessary certification process.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

None.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

Not applicable. This bill does not appear to: require counties or municipalities to spend funds or take an action requiring the expenditure of funds; reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate; or, reduce the percentage of a state tax shared with counties or municipalities.

2. Other:

None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

None.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

76 or unless emergency care is required. The insurer shall
77 authorize such consultation or procedure unless the health care

81 judge of compensation claims has determined that the 82 consultation or procedure is not medically necessary, not in 83 accordance with the practice parameters and protocols of

SUMMARY ANALYSIS

In 2011, the Chief Financial Officer convened the Money Service Business Facilitated – Workers' Compensation Work Group to study the issue of workers' compensation premium fraud in Florida, as facilitated by check cashers, and develop recommendations to resolve the issue. The fraud makes possible avoidance of tax collections by the state, results in underpayment of workers compensation insurance premiums to the carriers, and places law-abiding contractors at a competitive disadvantage when competing, on a price basis, with contractors benefitting from the fraud.

The Office of Financial Regulations (OFR) is responsible for licensing money services businesses. There are currently 1,065 licensed businesses having authority to engage in check cashing. Customer files, documentation, and records are reviewed during an examination or investigation by the OFR. Under current law, an examination must be conducted within 6 month of a license being issued, and then at least every 5 years. Because of the OFR's workload and limited assets, after the initial examination, a licensee can assume, with reasonable certainty, that it will not be examined again for several years, and knows that it will be provided advance notice. Thus, those conducting illegal activities are able to hide, destroy, or tamper with pertinent records or materials.

Check cashers who negotiate suspect checks may encounter difficulties in having their own financial institutions honor the checks, and in turn, credit their accounts. This incentivizes some check cashing facilities to sell checks that their financial institutions will not honor. Selling of payment instruments within 5 business days after acceptance is permissible under current law. When money service businesses do not properly negotiate, endorse, or deposit checks, it may be difficult for the OFR to detect irregularities or illegalities.

The bill eliminates the requirement that the OFR provide a 15-day advance notice to money services business licensees prior to conducting an examination or investigation. This change reduces the opportunity for hiding, destroying, or otherwise tampering with records and materials which may be pertinent to the OFR's examination or investigation. While retaining the requirement that each licensee be examined at least once every 5 years, the bill eliminates the requirement that the OFR conduct an examination of a business within 6 months of the business becoming licensed. This will provide greater flexibility to the OFR by permitting use of its resources in a more targeted manner. Both changes reduce the predictability of when a business may be examined.

The bill requires that a check cashing business deposit payment instruments into its own commercial account at a federally insured financial institution and deletes the authorization to sell payment instruments within 5 business days after acceptance. Audit trails and tracking of moneys are facilitated by requiring that the deposit of all payment instruments be made into the business's own account.

The bill authorizes disciplinary action and provides for penalties should a check casher fail to maintain a depository account in its own name, or fail to deposit all payment instruments into its own account.

The bill stipulates that a check casher may only accept or cash a payment instrument from a person who is the original payee or a conductor who is an authorized officer of the corporate payee named on the instrument's face. Acceptance and cashing of third-party checks is no longer authorized.

The bill codifies the $5 verification fee currently established by rule.

The bill has an indeterminate positive impact on state government and no impact on local government.

The bill provides for an effective date of July 1, 2012.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background:

In 2008, the Attorney General impaneled the Eighteenth Statewide Grand Jury to look into the issue of fraudulent insurance and other organized criminal enterprises. In March 2008, it published the Second Interim Report of the Statewide Grand Jury entitled "Check Cashers: A Call for Enforcement." As a result, Ch. 560, F.S., Money Services Business, underwent a major re-write to address concerns with fraudulent insurance and money laundering activities. While the reforms were positive, the legislation did not cure the problem of facilitators creating shell companies for the purpose of purchasing workers compensation insurance policies and then, for a fee, allowing uninsured contractors to use those certificates of insurance.

In 2011, the Chief Financial Officer convened the Money Service Business Facilitated – Workers' Compensation Work Group to study the issue of workers' compensation premium fraud in Florida, as facilitated by check cashers, and develop recommendations to resolve the issue. It was comprised of representatives from state government and industry stakeholders. A report containing the work group's recommendations and other relevant materials are available online.[1]

Workers' compensation insurance fraud continues to be a problem within Florida's construction industry. The scheme involves facilitators, contractors, and money services businesses. Facilitators create fake shell companies, typically incorporated online through the Department of State, so as to avoid true review and verification. The shell companies then purchase a minimal workers' compensation insurance policy, usually by describing its operations as a two to four person company. The facilitator may then approach an uninsured subcontractor who is looking for work but lacks the valid workers' compensation policy necessary to obtain contracts from a general contractor. The facilitator makes the shell company's name and workers' compensation policy available for use by the uninsured subcontractor, for a fee. Subsequently, a general contractor, knowingly or unknowingly, uses the uninsured subcontractor to perform work.

Once the uninsured subcontractor completes work under the guise of the shell company, payment will be made to him/her from the general contractor via company check made payable to the shell company. Typically, the check cannot be cashed at a bank because most banks will not cash a check made payable to a business or third party, but rather will require that the check be deposited into the payee's bank account. However, money service businesses will allow the cashing of the third-party business-to-business checks by certain "authorized" persons related to the payee. These "authorized" persons are the facilitator and others designated by the facilitator. Many times, these people have been introduced to the money service business' employees in advance, and limited powers of attorney listing these "authorized" persons are found in the "Know Your Customer" files of the money service business's records.

When checks made payable to the shell company are negotiated at the complicit money services business, two fees are taken out. One, usually between 1.5% and 2%, is taken out for the money services business as the fee for cashing the check. The second fee, usually between 6% and 8%, is taken out for the facilitator, as the fee for use of the shell company's name and workers' compensation insurance policy. The balance of the check is then returned to the uninsured subcontractor, posing as the shell company, in cash. The money paid in this manner is not reported to the shell company's workers' compensation insurance carrier, effectively avoiding the payment of any workers' compensation premiums or applicable payroll taxes. The payments are not considered payroll exposure because, on paper, the transaction appears to be a legitimate contractor to insured subcontractor payment.

Some money service businesses are at least tacitly aware of the fraud and their role in its success. Complicit money service businesses falsify required documents regarding the true identity of those persons authorized to conduct the transactions. To do this, they will complete Currency Transaction Reports for transactions in excess of $10,000 in the name of the owner of the shell company, rather than the facilitator, to protect the latter's identity.

Facilitators may duplicate this scheme multiple times using the same workers' compensation insurance policy. Upon becoming concerned with detection, they close the shell company, which only exists on paper, and form a new entity. Shell company documentation often reflects questionable information, such as an owner who does not exist or is in the country illegally. Therefore, it is difficult link these fraudulent activities.

Uninsured subcontractors, by avoiding actual workers' compensation premiums, are able to pass that cost savings on to general contractors, some of whom may be complicit in this fraud. Contractors and subcontractors who are in compliance with the state's workers' compensation insurance laws are placed at a competitive disadvantage when competing, on a price basis, with contractors benefitting from the fraud.

These fraudulent activities make possible avoidance of tax collection by the state. They result in underpayment of workers compensation insurance premiums to the carriers. Additionally, when an uninsured worker is injured, the costs are ultimately paid for by all taxpayers.

Current Situation:

The Office of Financial Regulations (OFR) is responsible for licensing money services businesses. There are currently 1,065 licensed businesses having authority to engage in check cashing.[2] Current law provides that the requirement for licensure does not apply to a person cashing payment instruments that have an aggregate face value of less than $2,000 per person per day and that are incidental to the retail sale of goods or services, within certain parameters. The $2,000 benchmark was selected in 2008 after conversations with interested parties including representatives from Jackson Hewitt, Wal-Mart, Amscot Financial, Inc., and others. The $2,000 amount was felt to still provide protection against fraudulent insurance and money laundering activities, and was consistent with the IRS's reported average federal tax refund.

There are no federal regulations which require a bank to cash a check for an individual who does not have an account with that bank. A 2009 Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation national survey of unbanked and underbanked household reported that an estimated 7.7% of U.S. households do not have a checking or savings account. According to the survey, 527,000 or 7% of Florida's households are unbanked.[3]

Check cashers are limited in the fees they may charge. By law, a check casher may not charge fees:

- In excess of 5% of the face amount of the payment instrument, or $5, whichever is greater.
- In excess of 3% of the face amount of the payment instrument, or $5, whichever is greater, if the payment instrument is any kind of state public assistance or federal social security benefit.
- For personal checks or money orders in excess of 10% of the face amount of those payment instruments, or $5, whichever is greater.[4]

Check cashers are authorized to collect a fee linked to the direct costs of verifying such things as a customer's identity or employment. That fee, established by rule, may not exceed $5.[5]

Documentation and record keeping requirements for Florida-licensed check cashers are established in law. These specify that, for any payment instrument accepted having a face value of $1,000 or more,

the check casher must maintain a copy of the personal identification that bears a photograph of the customer used as identification and a thumbprint of the customer taken by the licensee. Licensees are required to affix customer thumbprints to the original of each payment instrument exceeding $1,000, as well as secure and maintain a copy of the original payment instrument, a copy of the customer's personal identification presented at the time of acceptance, and maintain customer files for those cashing a corporate and third party payment instrument. Those customer files must include documentation from the Secretary of State verifying the corporate registration, Articles of Incorporation, information from the Department of Financial Services Compliance Proof of Coverage Query Page, and documentation of those authorized to negotiate payment instruments on the corporation's behalf. The files must be updated annually. Record keeping requirements for check cashers when the payment instrument is $1,000 or more, at a minimum, must include:

- Transaction date.
- Payor name.
- Payee name.
- Conductor name, if other than the payee.
- Amount of payment instrument.
- Amount of currency provided.
- Type of payment instrument.
- Fee charged for the cashing of the payment instrument.
- Branch/Location where instrument was accepted.
- Identification type presented by conductor.
- Identification number presented by conductor.

It is required that logs of these transactions be maintained in an electronic format that is readily retrievable and capable of being exported to most widely available software applications including Microsoft EXCEL.[6]

Customer files, documentation, and records are reviewed during an examination or investigation by the OFR. By law, an examination must be conducted within 6 months of a license being issued, and then at least every 5 years.[7] With few exceptions, the OFR is required to provide at least 15 days' notice to a money services business prior to conducting an examination or investigation.[8] Thus, those conducting illegal activities are able to hide, destroy, or tamper with pertinent records or materials. Because of the OFR's workload and limited assets, after the initial examination, a licensee can assume, with reasonable certainty, that it will not be examined again for several years and, when the examination or investigation does occur, it will receive advance notice.

Check cashers who negotiate suspect checks may encounter difficulties in having their financial institutions honor the checks, and in turn, credit their accounts. This incentivizes some check cashing facilities to sell checks that their financial institutions will not honor. Selling of payment instruments within 5 business days after acceptance is permissible under current law.[9] When money service businesses do not properly negotiate, endorse, or deposit checks, it may be difficult for the OFR to detect irregularities or illegalities.[10]

Effect of the bill:

The bill eliminates the requirement that the OFR provide a 15-day advance notice to money services business licensees prior to conducting an examination or investigation. This change reduces the opportunity for hiding, destroying, or otherwise tampering with records and materials which may be pertinent to the OFR's examination or investigation. While retaining the requirement that each licensee be examined at least once every 5 years, the bill eliminates the requirement that the OFR conduct an examination of a business within 6 months of the business becoming licensed. This will provide greater flexibility to the OFR by permitting use of its resources in a more targeted manner. Both changes reduce the predictability of when a business may be examined.

The bill requires that a check cashing business deposit payment instruments into its own commercial account at a federally insured financial institution and deletes the authorization to sell payment instruments within 5 business days after acceptance. Audit trails and tracking of moneys are facilitated by requiring that the deposit of all payment instruments be made into the business's own account. Maintaining such an account is a prerequisite for continued operation. A licensee is required to notify the OFR within 5 business days after it ceases to maintain a commercial depository account in its own name and, before resuming check cashing, must reestablish such an account and notify the OFR that the account exists.

The bill authorizes disciplinary action and provides for penalties should a check casher fail to maintain a depository account in its own name, or fail to deposit all payment instruments into its own account. Possible disciplinary actions include denial, revocation, or suspension of a license. In addition, it provides a definition for "fraudulent identification paraphernalia"[11] and specifies that that possession and use of fraudulent identification paraphernalia is a prohibited act punishable as a felony of the third degree.

The bill stipulates that a check casher may only accept or cash a payment instrument from a person who is the original payee or a conductor who is an authorized officer of the corporate payee named on the instrument's face. Acceptance and cashing of third-party checks is no longer authorized.

The bill codifies the $5 fee, currently established by rule, which is linked to the direct cost of verifying such things as a customer's identity or employment.

The bill provides for an effective date of July 1, 2012.

4
5 Amendment (with title amendment)
6 Remove everything after the enacting clause and insert:
7 Section 1. Subsection (8) of section 624.402, Florida
8 Statutes, is amended, and subsection (9) is added to that
9 section, to read:
10 624.402 Exceptions, certificate of authority required.—A
11 certificate of authority shall not be required of an insurer
12 with respect to:
13 (8)(a) An insurer domiciled outside the United States
14 covering only persons who, at the time of issuance or renewal,
15 are nonresidents of the United States if:
16 1. The insurer ~~or any affiliated person as defined in s.~~
17 ~~624.04 under common ownership or control with the insurer~~ does
18 not solicit, sell, or accept application for any insurance

19 policy or contract to be delivered or issued for delivery to any 20 person in any state;
21 2. The insurer registers with the office via a letter of 22 notification upon commencing business from this state;
23 3. The insurer provides the following information, in
24 English, to the office annually by March 1:
25 a. The name of the insurer; the country of domicile; the 26 address of the insurer's principal office and office in this
27 state; the names of the owners of the insurer and their
28 percentage of ownership; the names of the officers and directors
29 of the insurer; the name, e-mail, and telephone number of a
30 contact person for the insurer; and the number of individuals
31 who are employed by the insurer or its affiliates in this state;
32 b. The lines of insurance and types of products offered by 33 the insurer;
34 c. A statement from the applicable regulatory body of the 35 insurer's domicile certifying that the insurer is licensed or 36 registered for those lines of insurance and types of products in 37 that domicile; and
38 d. A copy of the filings required by the applicable
39 regulatory body of the insurer's country of domicile in that
40 country's official language or in English, if available;
41 4. All certificates, policies, or contracts issued in this 42 state showing coverage under the insurer's policy include the
43 following statement in a contrasting color and at least 10-point
44 type: "The policy providing your coverage and the insurer
45 providing this policy have not been approved by the Florida
46 Office of Insurance Regulation"; and

47 5. In the event the insurer ceases to do business from 48 this state, the insurer will provide written notification to the 49 office within 30 days after cessation.
50 (b) For purposes of this subsection, "nonresident" means
51 either a trust or other entity organized and domiciled under the 52 laws of a country other than the United States or a person who
53 resides in and maintains a physical place of domicile in a
54 country other than the United States, which he or she recognizes
55 as and intends to maintain as his or her permanent home. A
56 nonresident does not include an unauthorized immigrant present
57 in the United States. Notwithstanding any other provision of 58 law, it is conclusively presumed, for purposes of this
59 subsection, that a person is a resident of the United States if 60 such person has:
61 1. Had his or her principal place of domicile in the 62 United States for 180 days or more in the 365 days prior to
63 issuance or renewal of the policy;
64 2. Registered to vote in any state;
65 3. Made a statement of domicile in any state; or 66 4. Filed for homestead tax exemption on property in any 67 state.
68 (c) Subject to the limitations provided in this
69 subsection, services, including those listed in s. 624.10, may 70 be provided by the insurer or an affiliated person as defined in 71 s. 624.04 under common ownership or control with the insurer.
72 (d) An alien insurer transacting insurance in this state
73 without complying with this subsection shall be in violation of
74 this chapter and subject to the penalties provided in s. 624.15.

75 (9)(a) Life insurance policies or annuity contracts
76 solicited, sold or issued in this state by an insurer domiciled
77 outside the United States, covering only persons who, at the
78 time of issuance, are nonresidents of the United States,
79 provided
80 1. The insurer must currently be an authorized insurer in
81 its country of domicile as to the kind or kinds of insurance
82 proposed to be offered and must have been such an insurer for 83 not fewer than the immediately preceding 3 years, or must be the 84 wholly owned subsidiary of such authorized insurer or must be
85 the wholly owned subsidiary of an already eligible authorized
86 insurer as to the kind or kinds of insurance proposed for a
87 period of not fewer than the immediately preceding 3 years.
88 However, the office may waive the 3-year requirement if the 89 insurer has operated successfully for a period of at least the 90 immediately preceding year and has capital and surplus of not
91 less than $25 million.
92 2. Before the office may grant eligibility, the requesting
93 insurer shall furnish the office with a duly authenticated copy
94 of its current annual financial statement, in English, and with
95 all monetary values therein expressed in United States dollars,
96 at an exchange rate then-current and shown in the statement, in
97 the case of statements originally made in the currencies of
98 other countries, and with such additional information relative
99 to the insurer as the office may request.
100 3. The insurer must have and maintain surplus as to 101 policyholders of not less than $15 million. Any such surplus as 102 to policyholders shall be represented by investments consisting

103 of eligible investments for like funds of like domestic insurers
104 under part II of chapter 625; however, any such surplus as to 105 policyholders may be represented by investments permitted by the 106 domestic regulator of such alien insurance company if such
107 investments are substantially similar in terms of quality,
108 liquidity, and security to eligible investments for like funds
109 of like domestic insurers under part II of chapter 625.
110 4. The insurer must be of good reputation as to the 111 providing of service to its policyholders and the payment of 112 losses and claims.
113 5. To maintain eligibility, the insurer shall furnish the 114 office within the time period specified in s. 624.424(1)(a) a
115 duly authenticated copy of its current annual and quarterly
116 financial statements, in English, and with all monetary values
117 therein expressed in United States dollars, at an exchange rate
118 then-current and shown in the statement, in the case of 119 statements originally made in the currencies of other countries,
120 and with such additional information relative to the insurer as 121 the office may request.
122 6. An insurer receiving eligibility under this subsection
123 shall agree to make its books and records pertaining to its
124 operations in this state available for inspection during normal
125 business hours upon request of the office.
126 7. The insurer shall notify the applicant in clear and 127 conspicuous language:
128
129 a. The date of organization of the insurer.

130 b. The identity of and rating assigned by each recognized
131 insurance company rating organization that has rated the insurer
132 or, if applicable, that the insurer is unrated.
133 c. That the insurer does not hold a certificate of 134 authority issued in this state and that the office does not 135 exercise regulatory oversight over the insurer.
136 d. The identity and address of the regulatory authority
137 exercising oversight of the insurer.
138
139 This paragraph does not impose upon the office any duty or 140 responsibility to determine the actual financial condition or 141 claims practices of any unauthorized insurer, and the status of 142 eligibility, if granted by the office, indicates only that the 143 insurer appears to be financially sound and to have satisfactory
144 claims practices and that the office has no credible evidence to 145 the contrary.
146
147 (b) If at any time the office has reason to believe that an 148 insurer issuing policies or contracts pursuant to this
149 subsection is insolvent or is in unsound financial condition,
150 does not make reasonable prompt payment of benefits, or is no
151 longer eligible under the conditions specified in this
152 subsection, the office may conduct an examination or 153 investigation in accordance with s. 624.316, s. 624.3161, or s.
154 624.320 and, if the findings of such examination or 155 investigation warrant, may withdraw the eligibility of the 156 insurer to issue policies or contracts pursuant to this

157 subsection without having a certificate of authority issued by 158 the office.
159 (c) This subsection does not provide an exception to the 160 agent licensure requirements of chapter 626. Any insurer issuing
161 policies or contracts pursuant to this subsection shall appoint
162 the agents that the insurer uses to sell such policies or 163 contracts as provided in chapter 626.
164 (d) An insurer issuing policies or contracts pursuant to
165 this subsection is subject to part IX of chapter 626, Unfair
166 Insurance Trade Practices, and the office may take such actions
167 against the insurer for a violation as are provided in that 168 part.
169 (e) Policies and contracts issued pursuant to this
170 subsection are not subject to the premium tax specified in s.
171 624.509.
172 (f) Applications for life insurance coverage offered under
173 this subsection must contain, in contrasting color and not less
174 than 12-point type, the following statement on the same page as 175 the applicant's signature:
176 This policy is primarily governed by the laws of a
177 foreign country. As a result, all of the rating and 178 underwriting laws applicable to policies filed in 179 this state do not apply to this coverage, which may 180 result in your premiums being higher than would be 181 permissible under a Florida-approved policy. Any 182 purchase of individual life insurance should be
183 considered carefully, as future medical conditions
184 may make it impossible to qualify for another

185 individual life policy. If the insurer issuing your 186 policy becomes insolvent, this policy is not covered
187 by the Florida Life and Health Insurance Guaranty
188 Association. For information concerning individual
189 life coverage under a Florida-approved policy,
190 consult your agent or the Florida Department of 191 Financial Services.
192 (g) All life insurance policies and annuity contracts
193 issued pursuant to this subsection must contain on the first
194 page of the policy or contract, in contrasting color and not
195 less than 10-point type, the following statement:
196 The benefits of the policy providing your coverage
197 are governed primarily by the law of a country
198 other than the United States.
199 (h) All single-premium life insurance policies and single-
200 premium annuity contracts issued to persons who are not
201 residents of the United States and are not nonresidents
202 illegally residing in the United States pursuant to this
203 subsection shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 896.
204 (i) For purposes of this subsection, "nonresident" means a
205 trust or other entity or person as defined in subsection
206 624.402(8)(b).
207 (j) An alien insurer transacting insurance in this state
208 without complying with this subsection shall be in violation of 209 this chapter and subject to the penalties provided in s. 624.15.
210 Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.
